

Gustavo Barbosa-Cánovas, Washington State University, USA

Gustavo V. Barbosa-Cánovas is a Professor of Food Engineering and Director of the Center for Nonthermal Processing of Food (CNPF) at Washington State University, USA. Quite recently he was awarded a Honoris Causa Doctorate at Polytechnic University of Cartagena, Spain. He has received several prestigious recognitions such as the IFT Nicholas Appert Award, IFT International Award, IAEF (International Association of Engineering and Food) Lifetime Achievement Award, and is an IFT, IFST, and IUFOST Fellow as well as Member of the Washington State Academy of Sciences, Mexican Academy of Sciences and Uruguayan Academy of Engineering.