

Marc Hendrickx, KU Leuven, Belgium

Homepage

Marc Hendrickx is senior professor food technology at KU Leuven. He is head of the Laboratory of Food Technology, member of the board of LFoRCe (Leuven Food and Nutrition Research Center) and co-director of the InterUniversity Program in Food Technology (IUPFOOD). He has been involved in 14 multi-partner large scale EU funded projects (in the fields of thermal processing, high pressure processing and pulsed electric field processing with focus on kinetics and mechanisms of food quality changes), of which 6 as a coordinator. Recently, he has been / is a key scientist and member of the management board of High-Tech-Europe and HST FoodTrain. His research output summarizes in over 430 peer review publications, 375 conference contributions and 3 books.